I recently re-read Charles Capp’s book titled, “The Tongue—A Creative Force.” I wanted to do this because I noticed that recently many words that came out of my mouth were not faith confessions but were coming from my circumstances. And guess what? I was living proof that our tongue is a creative force. I was living with what I was speaking.

Not long ago I had a circumstance in my life that seemed overwhelming. For things to turn around there were numerous people’s hearts that would need to be softened and turned to Jesus, not the least of which was my own heart. But others’ hearts were so hard and had been hard for so long that I began saying things like, “They have been like that their whole life and will probably die with that mindset. I can’t do anything to change the situation.” Does this sound familiar?

The truth of the matter was I was living in the reality of the words of my mouth. God’s Word says in Matthew 12:34 (ESV), “…out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaks.” Now let’s read Matthew 12:34-37 (MSG), “You have minds like a snake pit! How do you suppose what you say is worth anything when you are so foul-minded? It’s your heart, not the dictionary that gives meaning to your words. A good person produces good deeds and words season after season. An evil person is a blight on the orchard. Let me tell you something: Every one of these careless words is going to come back to haunt you. There will be a time of Reckoning. Words are powerful; take them seriously. Words can be your salvation. Words can also be your damnation.”

Wow! God really spoke to me about my heart giving meaning to my words. I certainly did not want my words to come back to haunt me, nor did I want my time of reckoning to come quickly. I needed to change my heart and my words if I wanted my circumstances to change. This was a lesson I had learned while standing for the restoration of our marriage, and I apparently had forgotten this lesson could be applied to my current situation.

“Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues (forces) of life.” Proverbs 4:23 (KJV) In the AVS version Matthew 12:34-37 says,
“…and the evil man out of his evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.” God talks about an evil report in Numbers 13 when the spies went into the Promised Land and ten came back with an “evil report,” even though they were only telling about what they saw, what they heard, and what they felt. But all of it was contrary to what God had said.

They were supposed to go to the Promised Land and plan their strategy – not “if” they were going to take the land, but “how” they were going to take the land. God said the things they saw, the things they heard, and the things they felt were an evil report. God had already said this was a land that He had given to Israel. It was theirs because God said so.

God is a restorer of broken relationships. Marriage is important to our Father. He wants you to agree with Him. There is nothing too difficult for Him. Your spouse’s heart is not greater in strength than Jesus’ ability to change a heart, but He wants you to agree with His Word.

Charles Capps shares the following on pages 87-88 of his book:

We have all done it. We have gone to God and given Him an evil report. We have said in our prayer, “It didn’t work, Lord. It’s getting worse. I prayed and it didn’t work out.”

What makes you think it didn’t work out? We will say, “Well, you see, it looks worse and I feel like things are getting worse.”

That’s an evil report. You are not to be moved by what you see or feel. Be moved by WHAT THE WORD SAYS. SAY ONLY WHAT THE WORD SAYS. The Word says it will work out. Stand on that. STAND.

The Bible says, “…and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore…” Ephesians 6:13-14. It didn’t say turn and run. It didn’t say give up and say, “Dear Lord, it’s not working.”

It says, “When you have done all to stand.” STAND - JUST STAND THERE! “You mean don’t do anything?” Yeah! That’s what I mean. JUST STAND THERE. Somebody said, “What’ll I do? I prayed and it’s just not working out.” Well, the first thing to do is to shut your mouth. The second thing is just STAND THERE. If you can’t say something good, don’t say anything. It’ll work out, if you believe God.

Apparently I have forgotten some things since the last time I walked around a similar mountain. But I am declaring this day at the beginning of 2014 that my God is able. There is no relationship He cannot fix. God has the desire to heal broken relationships within our whole family because He is a good God and He is big enough to do so because there is nothing impossible with Him. Please join me in declaring, “Yes and Amen” to God’s promises!

Charles Capps’ book, The Tongue—A Creative Force is on sale this month for $5.00. Please see page 12 for the order form.

ON THE WAITING END OF A PROMISE

By Duke Rohe, Houston, Texas

Not a bad place to be. For this is where God steeped His Spirit in us. It is where we answer His question “Am I Sufficient?” It is where we find development in areas we weren’t expecting. The following might be elements of growth you weren’t anticipating while actively believing for a righteous thing.

♦ Your spiritual awareness leaps. Those little anticipation antenna are on high alert.
♦ You receive more because you believe more in an area than ever before.
♦ You are poised for obedience.
♦ You become a complacency buster. You want nothing to get in the way of the alignment between you and your God.
♦ Your trust gets toughened. You grow bulldog-mentality to see it to the end.
♦ You count on God to do His part, to do what you understand He said He will do. You are open to Him giving new
My husband is waiting for neurosurgery on his neck. When he came home from the “far country” six years ago it was quite obvious he had nerve damage in his neck that was affecting his arms, but he was determined to work and provide for his family.

He enjoyed dirt bike riding. We were blessed with a vacation property to use winter and summer. His physical health has declined and he was now no longer able to work as a carpenter in a restoration company or enjoy the recreation activities that he used to. He was booked for laminectomy surgery in July but he has been “bumped” by other more serious life or death surgeries four times.

As a Covenant Keeper, God has taught me about waiting. I prayed and waited for my husband for ten years before he came home to us! Now God is teaching my husband how to wait, trust in Him and believe His promises for healing.

This morning as we waited for the surgeon’s office to call, we read God’s Word together…

“But if we look forward to something we don’t have yet, we must wait patiently and confidently…and we know that God causes everything to work together for the good of those who love God and are called according to His purpose for them.” Rom 8:25, 28

As we wait, God is drawing my husband unto Himself. We are praying together…prayers of thanksgiving, prayers for our children, neighbours, our friends and even for those patients who have bumped him from his surgery time. We know God loves us and His timing is perfect. He has promised us…

“And I am convinced that nothing can ever separate us from His love. Death can’t and life can’t. The angels can’t, and the demons can’t. Our fears for today, our worries about tomorrow, and even the powers of hell can’t keep God’s love away…nothing in all creation will ever be able to separate us from the love of God that is revealed in Christ Jesus our Lord.” Romans 8:38, 39

It’s now afternoon and we got a call from the surgeon’s office. The surgery is bumped another week and so we wait as God holds us.

Two months later… The surgery was performed in September following an eight week wait. After an additional eight weeks we can see that my husband is now able to lift his arm over his head. He is able to walk without pain and is gaining strength in his shoulders. He is starting physical therapy this week.

God’s timing is perfect as my husband was now home to supervise and contract the renovations in our new condo. We were able to move in last week and now enjoy the blessings of “downsizing.” God is now in charge of the restoration of Russ’ strength and his rehabilitation so he can return to work. God is good…all the time and His timing is perfect!
Dear Covenant Keepers Intercessors,

Thank you so much for your prayers and scriptures! They are such a blessing to me. No words can express my appreciation and admiration to all of you! Let us keep uplifting marriages in prayers. May God bless your work which in turn brings blessings to many couples!

I and my husband have just celebrated our 22nd anniversary. In addition, we will join a marriage camp December 30th through January 1st. We hope to strengthen our relationship and repair gaps so as to leave no room for Satan.

Sylvia Ngsuenlau, Hong Kong

Dear Covenant Keepers,

Six years ago my youngest son Jon was diagnosed with testicular cancer. Your intercessors and many others prayed for him and last year he was given the five year “all clear.”

He got married to Holly, the girl of his dreams, in September this year at a villa in Ibiza. They were thrilled they were getting married in site of the mystic rock in Ibiza.

To say this was going to be a challenge in terms of relationships was an understatement. Earlier this year at a family occasion the Lord convicted me that my heart was very cold to the OW. Now my husband and she were going to be in the same space as me in the week of the wedding with a civil ceremony in UK and pre-wedding drinks as well as the wedding itself.

I was blessed with prayer support from my CKI online ooVoo group and many others.

I am blessed that my daughter is on fire for the Lord and married to a lovely Christian husband. They have two gorgeous boys, Joshua and Caleb. I got to the venue and had just got our youngest grandson, Caleb, dressed by the car into his page-boy outfit when I put him down on the ground and slammed the car door…on my finger!

My first reaction was to throw my hand in the air and yell at the top of my voice...'JESUS IS KING. HE IS MY HEALER AND DELIVERER AND IN HIM DO I TRUST!!' and I went ranting on like this and praying aloud in tongues while the medical team was called.

I must admit I really thought I had done myself a mischief, but I was so incensed and the build-up was so huge for this wedding with the challenge of the relationships that this torrent came out. I didn't care what anyone thought! I was mad at the enemy.

Well, there was blood pouring down the sink and still I prayed in tongues and proclaimed Jesus as my healer, while the medics bandaged me up. My daughter Naomi thought I would have to go to hospital but I didn't. I can honestly say it did not trouble me at all, didn't throb, didn't hurt.

Two days later I thought I had better take a look. I'm a bit queasy so I was not looking forward to the mess. There was only a tiny speck of blood on the bandage and layers of skin kept coming off so I had to keep it dressed. I have full movement of the finger although there is a little lump on the joint.

Jon, who is not a Christian yet, sent me a lovely thank you card after the wedding.

"Thank you for all you have done; raising me well, caring for me, praying for me, standing by me, teaching me and loving me. I'm so sorry you hurt your finger just before the wedding but I'm glad that Jesus helped you through!"

Jesus is King and in Him we trust.

Our new website is SO CLOSE to being ready!!! But as in a marathon where the last couple of miles are the hardest to complete – we just have to keep on plugging away!

The basic structure is in place and has many new features. We are currently working on changes to content of the pages from the old site. One technology change that many of you (including myself) will really appreciate is that the new technology is flexible to format the web layout to the device it is viewed on. If you usually use a smartphone or tablet instead of a full desktop monitor you will no longer have to squint to read the tiny print that is the result when the current site is displayed on a 3 inch smartphone screen.

Another feature is one that will not be visible to web site viewers. That is the link to the back-end database that will eventually replace our current database technology that has been in use for over a decade. Today when someone fills in the contact form an e-mail is generated and sent to the “info” e-mail address. We then must re-type all the data into the database. Our replacement database that will follow behind the web site introduction will have a data feed directly into the database reducing the clerical effort of managing all the information of our constituents and supporters.

Currently your prayer requests sent from the web site must be re-typed into forms for the intercessors use. The replacement database will prepare the reports automatically. The reduction of clerical effort will allow all of the CKI support staff to spend more time on ministry effort.
COVENANT MOMENTS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

CANADA

CK’s husband visited her recently and they had a pleasant time together.
CK’s husband Skypes her at least once a week and also phones every so often to play her a tune on the organ which he plays as a new hobby.
CK’s husband supported her as she went through quite a few difficult health tests during a cancer scare. Test reports reveal that it is not cancer but something that is not so life threatening. We are praying for healing.

UNITED STATES

AZ: CK and husband removed the divorce petition from court. I am praying and believe God will bring us back together under one roof and fully restore our marriage. We spent Thanksgiving together.
CK’s husband, who is in a NC marriage, has his truck parked at her home while he is away and he told her that she can use it if she needs to. She praises God for this kindness extended to her.

CA: CK praises God for a date she had scheduled with her husband after her CKI ooVoo group meeting.
CK spent Thanksgiving with her spouse. He still says he intends to come home soon.
OK: CK called to tell his wife about his brother’s health situation. He was caught off guard when she answered. He has only been able to leave voicemail messages and texts since she left. He praises God she received his call.
CK had good face to face conversation with her husband regarding their son’s future plans and test score. He did well on the test.
CK had another long phone conversation with his wife and she talked about her needs openly.
CK’s wife is sounding more like herself and he was able to avoid any strife during one of their recent conversations.
CK had a dream about herself and her spouse and was able to share it with him. Then he shared a dream he had about the two of them.

LOOK WHAT GOD IS DOING

Canada
CK dreamt that their spouse was coming back, though it looked like they expected them to move where the prodigal was in the US, so they questioned as to why not move back to Canada (then the CK woke up). It’s always nice when the Lord gives you a dream about your spouse.
CK’s husband received a report that the cancer that he thought had returned has not.

USA
AZ: CK has been blessed to know that his brother, who he has prayed for for years, is now born again and even ministered to him. PTL!
CK praises God that He has given her a desire to exercise (“once a dirty word to me”). Now, every day at 7:30am she walks and prays around her neighborhood for 30 minutes.
CA: CK thanks God for His provision of the new tires she needed at a good price.
CK is praising God for His grace and favor. The hospital where he had services recently waived a $20K medical bill!
CO: CK called Home Depot with a request for help. Her fence around her home was falling down. She was caring for both her dog and a neighbor’s dog. She asked to have someone come to give her an estimate. The sales person said she didn't have anyone to come out, but she said she and another employee would come and take care of getting the fence back up! They offered to reinforce the fence and five men put steel stakes in the ground all around the fence. They told her if it needed reinforcing again, call them and they’ll come back and get it back up. No charge. Praise God.

ers who are or have been where we are. Empathy is an important emotion. When we have that I believe our prayers are more forceful and heartfelt.

GA: CK praises God for the two healed marriage testimonies that were given at her CKI group meeting recently. There was a time for questions and answers for the group as well as a great praise and prayer time together.

OK: CK thanks God that her lawyer informed her that no date has been set for early December mediation. No information has been received from her husband.

CK ran “Route 66” half marathon. Her daughters also ran. Her husband and son came to watch and then they all went out to lunch together.

CK greatly appreciates receiving an unexpected check for $100 from a home school group she is connected with.

CK shares that “My Christmas this year promises to be very different. I have been staying with a friend who is recovering from total knee replacement. Also, have several Native American friends from church have made me feel loved and accepted like I don’t remember the last time I felt. Merry Christmas to all of you. P.S. I praise God for Covenant Keepers. You taught me a lot and were there when I thought my world was falling apart. I haven’t seen my spouse for a long time now but I know God has us both in His plan.”

CK is learning to “let go and let God”! There are signs of another woman in the picture but CK is focusing on Jesus.

CK’s daughter was accepted in a comprehensive rehab program locally. Her daughter had been attending church leading up to this. CK is hopeful for a good outcome physically and spiritually.

WA: CK thanks God for the opportunity to have spent Thanksgiving with his parents.

CK praises God for her Thanksgiving spent with the entire family. They are starting/starting a tradition...a talent show – so fun!

WV: CK praises God for her husband and their family (all 23 of them) being at their home together for Thanksgiving.

Blessing for the New Year

We get to choose what we believe for the New Year. Please choose to initiate God’s promises and blessings for your life and for your family in the New Year by proclaiming them as truth. He is the God “Who gives life to the dead and speaks of the nonexistent things that He has foretold and promised as if they already existed.” Romans 4:17 (AMP) The power in a blessing is in speaking it! Because I believe that God “is able to do far more abundantly than all that we ask or think, according to the power at work within us.” Ephesians 3:20 (ESV) Did you get that? We can’t even imagine all the wonderful things planned for us in the coming year. Therefore, today I declare:

I am blessed with God’s divine purpose and perfect plan for my life. I am blessed with gifts, God-given abilities and guidance. I am blessed by hearing His voice. I am blessed with strength of character, perseverance and self-control. I am blessed with family and friends, faith and freedom. I am blessed with health, joy, favor and fulfillment. I am blessed with promotion, protection, prosperity and provision. I am blessed with spirit of obedience, supernatural success and a positive outlook on life. I am blessed with a fresh start and a new outlook on life, beginning today.

I am looking forward to the new thing God will do in my life this year. I choose to get excited about my future because I am blessed!

In Jesus’ name, Amen

CALIFORNIA YELLOW RIBBON DAY

About twenty CKs met in Buena Park, California, on Saturday, November 2nd, at the Holiday Inn. In attendance were Loretta Jackson, State Director for California; Cherie Igo, Group Leader in Placentia, California; and Lorraine Woodhouse, Intercessor for the Southwest Region. We had praise and worship for about 30 minutes and everyone entered in and there was such unity in the group.

Loretta shared how "Yellow Ribbon Day" started in Covenant Keepers. She then taught about the love walk referenced in 1 Corinthians 13: 4-7 (AMP) Our love walk comes from our relationship with the Lord Jesus. As we grow more and more in His love our prayer life changes and also our words. She also shared about trusting God and that nothing is too hard for God. The message was light hearted as she described how to walk through difficult situations with your spouse and others. Knowing who you are in Christ is the key to walking through situations in victory. What people say about us or what our spouses say is not what we are. God says we are precious in His sight and that we are also a gift to Jesus from the Father. Spend quality time reading the Bible and feed on His word daily because Jesus truly heals the broken heart and makes it whole.

Covenant Keepers were so yielded to the spirit of prayer and the love of God flowed through the room.

LOUISIANA YELLOW RIBBON DAY

Louisiana's Yellow Ribbon Day, November 2, 2013, was a small gathering of faithful standers from Lafayette and Baton Rouge. We met at a Lafayette seafood restaurant for some great food and even better fellowship.

It was inspiring to share how God has been working in our lives. For example, one lady is now working at a clinic and sees her husband frequently when he comes in for check-ups! After lunch we adjourned to a home for a teaching from Mark 11:22-26, "Have faith in God. Amen, I say to you, whoever says to this mountain, ‘Be lifted up and thrown into the sea’ and does not doubt in his heart, but believes that what he says will happen, it shall be done for him. Therefore I tell you, all that you ask for in prayer, believe that you will receive it and it shall be yours. When you stand to pray, forgive anyone against whom you have a grievance so that your heavenly Father may in turn, forgive you your transgressions."

The Holy Spirit reminded us that we need to speak the Word out loud and we need to ask. After time for private repentance, we prayed for our husbands, wives and children. It was a powerful time of prayer.

We were all encouraged, and the Baton Rouge Covenant Keeper's group renewed its commitment to meet each week, in spite of the leader now working four nights a week. We were blessed with rejuvenated faith as we proclaim God's Faithfulness. His desire is to heal and restore marriages. Our desire is to be His voice, His heart, and His hands as we joyfully and boldly proclaim God's Faithfulness to covenant. To God be the glory.
Saturday, October 26th, at the Old Chicago pizza and pasta restaurant six covenant keepers gathered for the Arizona Yellow Ribbon Day dinner. We had a great time of fellowship and encouraging one another. God used the event in a very special way. A new covenant keeper came and said he enjoyed being with us. However, he was not sure if he was supposed to stand. At 2:00 AM the next morning the Lord woke him up and told him he was to stand for his marriage. He is now part of our group. Praise the Lord!

Start the New Year off speaking God’s Word over your life. Words are the most powerful things in the universe. The words you speak will either put you over in life or hold you in bondage. Many people have been held captive in their circumstances by their own words. Put yourself in a position to receive God’s best for you by speaking His Word. His Word spoken from your mouth and conceived in your heart becomes a spiritual force releasing His ability within you.
